IMPORTANT: During the duration of your studies, you are required to inform both the ISO and the USCIS of any address change — temporary or otherwise — within 10 days. You may inform the ISO by updating your address on WebSIS; This action inform USCIS. Failure to report an address change could result in the loss of your legal status in the United States.

IMPORTANT: As an international student at MIT, you are responsible for maintaining your own legal status. This means you must ensure that you are registered full-time every semester, and that the validity of your immigration documents does not expire. Be certain to report any changes in your major, academic level, funding, and/or completion of studies date within a timely manner to the ISO. If you allow the date on your DS-2019 to expire, you will fall out of legal status and may suffer serious consequences.
