Zaragoza, 8 May 2009

Dear friend Yossi,

As Rector of the University of Zaragoza, and in the name of the institution I head, it is my pleasure to express to you my most sincere congratulations for the award of the 2009 Aragón International Prize given to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) by the Aragón Government.

That prestigious award bears strong public recognition to the commitment with scientific research, technological development and education, shown in several agreements between MIT, Aragón Government and University of Zaragoza. These agreements have all been signed in order to develop Logistics, contributing in an essential way to the international recognition of Aragón.

Please allow me to congratulate you again and remind you that I personally and the institution I head are at your disposal.

With kindest regards,
Yours Sincerely,
