

This document lists a sample of the well-known or significant anime series (with few exceptions, 26+ episodes) released between 1963 and 1998. If you know very little about anime before 1998, consider one of the series listed below.

All series are ordered by the original year broadcast (TV) or released (OVA). In addition, to locate the series for viewing, you can check availability from the sources listed.

This list draws from the instructor's personal knowledge, The Anime Encyclopedia, credit rolls, box information, and various websites on the Internet. You are no means constrained to this list. There are orders of magnitude more animation that you may select for your series analysis; this list is only a small sample. All errors are, of course, the instructor's; if you discover an error, please notify him.

Format: DVD (D), VHS (V), Digital Fansub (F). Unless listed otherwise, VHS tapes and Digital Fansubs are Japanese language dialogue with English subtitles. DVDs are Region 1 with Japanese and English dialogues, and English subtitles.

Instructor (F): Available from the instructor's collection, and placed in the Film Office in advance for student use. These titles will remain in the Film Office through Spring Break. Please return these titles to the Film Office as soon as possible.

MIT Anime: Available from the MIT Anime distro library. All titles are on VHS.

Instructor: Available from the instructor's collection. Students who choose these series should contact the instructor promptly, who will deposit the materials in the Film Office.

Commercial: Available commercially in the US market.

Fansub: Available via the fansub network. Virtually all titles before 1997 are unavailable in digital fansub format.
